

Mayor Recalls Past, Sees Bright Future

The early history of this region and of Granite City was traced in a talk by Mayor Donald Partney on Tuesday at the kickoff ceremony for this year's observance of the 75th anniversary of Granite City.

He related that, "as the 15th mayor of our city, and on behalf of the City Council, it gives me great pleasure to welcome you to the 75th birthday of our city."

"Granite City is not of interest in terms of historic scenes; our city has little of this sort of history. The story of our city is that of a most important industrial district in the Middle West."

"The first recorded settler on the site of Granite City was Dr. George Caldwell, whom historians describe as a 'live, enterprising Yankee who combined the practice of medicine with tilling of the soil.'"

"Dr. Caldwell purchased 200 acres of bottomland on which part of West Granite is built. Surely, Indians skulked in nearby forests and the Mississippi swamps presented a constant menace."

"Other settlers began to arrive, most of them Southerners who came to take advantage of militia rights which entitled them to 100 acres of public land," Mayor Partney reported.

"Thomas Kirkpatrick, a South Carolinian, staked out militia claim on the site of Edwardsville and built a cabin there in 1805. Several years later, he constructed a mill on Cahokia Creek, called Kirkpatrick Place."

County Established

"On Sept. 12, 1812, Governor Edwards issued the following proclamation at Kaskaskia, territorial capital:

"By virtue of the powers vested in the governor of the territory, I do hereby lay off the county or district to be called the County of Madison. I do appoint the house of Thomas Kirkpatrick to be the seat of justice."

"On Sept. 29, the governor chose his good friend, Dr. Caldwell, to serve as the new county justice of the peace."

Common Pleas held its first session on April 5, 1813, in Kirkpatrick's house."

"Three days later, Kirkpatrick obtained a license to operate a tavern. Rates established were:

"Food and forage: breakfast, 25c; dinner, 25c; supper, 25c; corn per gallon, 12½c; oats per gallon, 12½c; hay or fodder per night, 12½c."

"Drinks per half pint: rum, 37½c; gin, 25c; wine, 37½c; peach brandy, 12½c; whiskey, 12½c."

"In 1813 the court directed the county surveyor to lay out the town of Edwardsville as the permanent county seat and appointed George Caldwell, commissioner to collect taxes in the County of Madison."

"Taxes collected that year were based on the following schedule:

man, $1; each horse or mule, 50c; each slave, $1; William Baker's, Samuel Gilham's and William B. Whiteside's ferry on the Mississippi, $1 each; Walker's ferry, $3; and also the valuation of houses, lands and water mills."

Mayor Partney noted that "an increased flow of pioneers had resulted in further settlement of the area in which Granite City was to rise."

Germans, Welsh Arrive

"Thousands of Germans came to Missouri in the 1830s. Among these were Frederick and Mary Niedringhaus and their sons, Henry William F. Frederick G. and Frederick W. Frederick G. became apprentice tanners and Henry, still a child, was enrolled in school."

"In 1857, William and Frederick G. Niedringhaus saved enough money to open a shop at Second Street and Cass Avenue. In those days, tinware was cut by hand and soldered together. In 1868, they incorporated the St. Louis Stamping Company."

"In 1878, the Niedringhaus built the Granite Iron Rolling Mill at Second and Drexel Streets, St. Louis. They imported skilled Welsh workmen to operate the mills; some of these Welsh families are still residents of Granite City."

"In 1888, Frederick G. Niedringhaus was chosen as Representative of the Eighth Congressional District of Missouri, and was elected in a walk-away."

"In August 1891, the Niedringhaus decided to take a trip to the east side of the Mississippi River, arriving at a small station which at the time was called 'Kinder,' where Niedringhaus Avenue now crosses the railroad tracks."

Initial Land Purchase

"Here they met Mark Henson, a Kinderhook school teacher, whom they employed as their land agent. Henson obtained options on 3500 acres and the Niedringhaus purchased this land in 1892."

"In 1893, they hired the city engineer of St. Louis to lay out Granite City. The sons of William and Frederick G. wanted the place to be called Niedringhaus, but the fathers chose the name Granite City, commemorating the product that had made them wealthy, Granite-ware."

"In the spring of 1894, an army of construction workers invaded the fields of Kinderhook and began constructing Markle Lead Works, American Steel Foundry and the Granite City steel plant. These plants began production in 1895."

"The outline of the city emerged in 1896. Fourteen thousand trees were planted that year. Sidewalks of planks and granite were put down, streets were graded and curbed, and 100 brick houses were completed and purchased by Niedringhaus employees."

992 Population in 1896

"Granite City was incorporated as a city on March 9, 1896. Its population was 992."

"The first officials were James G. McRoberts, mayor; W. W. Stevens, city clerk; W. H. Collier, city treasurer; and Mark Henson, Charles Pardee, Ky. W. C. Lindsey, G. J. Webb, A. R. Smith and Professor L. P. Frohman, aldermen."

"The Mississippi Valley, a weekly published at Venice, saluted the swift rise of Granite City in a special issue, Dec. 15, 1898."

"Editor William H. Temme wrote: 'To read of ancient city buildings is of the greatest interest to students of historical research; but to live, see and enjoy the raising of a mighty city and be part and parcel of the mighty strides accomplished is even greater.'

"The establishments of Granite City are all permanent. The mighty industries can furnish employment to over 4,000 people and over two-thirds of them are residents of St. Louis."

Water, Power, Paved Streets

"The city has a complete line of mains for water, its streets are lighted with electricity, and another year may see the completion of sewerage. It has over a half mile of paved streets."

Mayor Partney concluded, "Granite City had 3,122 inhabitants in 1900. Granite City thrived beyond the hopes of its founders."

"A late comer among cities, it abounded with opportunities. Lines of endeavor, with no apparent saturation point, lay open on every side."

"The place might grow to have 20,000 inhabitants or twenty times 20,000. Who could tell? In the year of 1971, the city holds a rosy picture for great expansion and general improvement in living conditions."

Theft Charge Filed

Steven F. Kraus, 17, of 2921 Indiana Ave., was arrested at 8:20 p.m. Tuesday on a charge of theft of about $120 from his parents. The complaint was signed by his father. He pleaded innocent and bail was set at $500.

Organizers, Teachers of Checkerboard Squares Honored at Surprise Dinner

The parents of the Checkerboard Square dancers held a surprise appreciation dinner during the weekend for Mr. and Mrs. Edward Boyd and their children, Sherine and Shelby Boyd, Mrs. Susanne Greene and Mrs. Robert Anderson, at the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee streets in Madison.

A buffet supper was served by Mrs. Gisela Gott and Mrs. Anne Vasiloff.

The center was decorated for the event by Mrs. Marie Fraundorf and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gott.

Dr. J. R. Vasiloff was master of ceremonies and noted the many activities and accomplishments of both the Boys and the Checkerboard Squares.

Started in 1950

The Boys were introduced to square dancing by Bob's sister Mrs. Pearl Hedrick who gave them some beginner records and a book of "Cowboy Dances" in 1950.

Along with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sharp Jr., they organized an adult square dance group that met at the center.

The first group included Mr. and Mrs. Barney Fraundorf, Mr. and Mrs. Rudy Uherick, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Schriber, Mr. and Mrs. Art Schriber, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boyles and Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Townsend all of Madison.

Exhibition dancing started in 1958 when they started performing for numerous organizations in the Quad-City area.

The group's first big trip came in 1962 when they went to Miami Beach for an exhibition during a National Square Dance convention.

Over the years the Checkerboard Squares have made numerous television appearances, and have traveled in 11 states for performances.

Mayor Mike Sasyk of Madison presented the Boys with a plaque of appreciation and commented on the wonderful contribution the Boyd family has made to the youth of the Quad-City area.

Mrs. Sasyk presented Mrs. Boyd with a dozen red roses and a guest book with the signatures of all attending.

A tape recording of the evening's events was presented to the Boys by Dr. Vasiloff.

The evening program concluded with square dancing.

Elks Veto Plan to Purchase Building Site

The Granite City Elks lodge 1063 decided against purchasing five-acre tract of land adjacent to the Arlington Heights golf course for future construction of a new clubhouse by a vote of 2 to 1 at the regular meeting Tuesday night.

The $35,000 tract was a controversial issue because of the price and its distance from Granite City.

Also at the meeting, three Granite City High School students received the Elks Most Valuable Student awards. They were each presented with a certificate and a savings bond.

Chosen for the awards were Phillip D. Dorch, Eric Ann Mills and Susan Ann Klyaschiff. All were in the top 10 in their class.

They were chosen on the basis of their high school achievements and a brochure in which they explained their activities in high school and in their community during the past four years.

The three will be entered in the Illinois Elks Ann. state contest where they will compete with winners from all chapters in the state.

SPECIAL EDUCATION DISCUSSION TONIGHT

Caseworkers aligned against the professional behavioral scientist within the county who seek to extend current services and surrounding that are and promote new services aimed at meeting the county's need for a comprehensive mental health program.

During most of its history, neither the medical profession nor the mental health profession has been represented on the 708 Board. The board is made up primarily of laymen who have had no previous experience in mental health programming.

The board has stated that it looks upon representatives of Zone VII and mental health professionals in the county with much suspicion and mistrust.

The 708 Board membership sees its primary role as one of spending as little of the county mental health tax dollar as possible, and is strongly opposed to a comprehensive mental health program.

The Madison County Mental Health Board (708) has been critical of community boards. The 708 board seems to feel that since it provides a sizeable portion of the budgets of the mental health agencies in the county, it should have direct control over these agencies.

The 708 Board has attempted, therefore, to use political pressures in involving itself in the internal structure of this community clinic.

Each time the clinic board tries to carry out its task of operating its facility by making decisions regarding hiring of staff member, renting an additional office, expanding its service, etc., it is met by a threat by the 708 Board of cutting off county tax funds.

In September 1970, as the new fiscal year approached, mental health agencies were instructed by 708 to prepare detailed budget requests and were told that early budget hearings would be held.

Shortly after budget requests were sent in to the county, prior to any budget hearings, newspapers throughout the county reported the 708 Board had reported plans to allocate $60,000 to the county mental health agency in the county. This represented a sizeable cut to all agencies.

Shortly after reading of the drastic cuts proposed, directors of the mental health agencies met and jointly requested the 708 Board to hold budget hearings. The 708 Board set time aside at its next meeting to hear pleas from the agencies as to why they could not tolerate such drastic cuts.

As a result of this meeting, the Madison County allocation was increased from $60,000 to $70,000, the Alton clinic's allocation from $80,000 to $82,000 and Specialized Services from $60,000 to $65,000. Suicide Prevention Service from $40,000 to $42,000. Madison-St. Charles Counties was refused funding entirely.

The 708 Board could give this clinic no explanation as to why $70,000 was allocated as opposed to the $112,000 that had been requested. Other agencies which were cut also were given no explanation.

There has been no vacancy on the 708 Board and other members have threatened to resign as a result of the state's attorney's office having advised them that mental health programs should not be drastically

He has been superintendent of operations, divisional superintendent, rolling and finishing departments, and manager of the department of metallurgy and inspection in 1967. He lives in East St. Louis.

Mr. Cueto also was graduated from the University of Missouri-Rolla. He started with Granite City Steel in 1949, became assistant to the superintendent of metallurgy and inspection in 1961, manager of customer contacts in 1963 and director of metallurgy and inspection in 1967. He lives in East St. Louis.

Local Funding Squeeze

The greatest single problem area for the Quad-City Clinic the past year or has two been the area of local funding through the Madison County 708 Board.

During the last four years, considerable ambiguity and mistrust has developed between the 708 Board and the mental health agency board.

It was the original intention of the County Board of Supervisors to appoint three people to the 708 Board who had vigorously campaigned on behalf of the 708 Law Referendum.

During the 708 Board membership over the last few years created an over-representation of members who initially opposed the referendum.

Therefore, at present, the Madison County 708 Board serves primarily as a counterforce aligned against the professional behavioral scientist within the county who seek to extend current services and surrounding that are and promote new services aimed at meeting the county's need for a comprehensive mental health program.

During most of its history, neither the medical profession nor the mental health profession has been represented on the 708 Board. The board is made up primarily of laymen who have had no previous experience in mental health programming.

The board has stated that it looks upon representatives of Zone VII and mental health professionals in the county with much suspicion and mistrust.

The 708 Board membership sees its primary role as one of spending as little of the county mental health tax dollar as possible, and is strongly opposed to a comprehensive mental health program.

The Madison County Mental Health Board (708) has been critical of community boards. The 708 board seems to feel that since it provides a sizeable portion of the budgets of the mental health agencies in the county, it should have direct control over these agencies.

The 708 Board has attempted, therefore, to use political pressures in involving itself in the internal structure of this community clinic.

Each time the clinic board tries to carry out its task of operating its facility by making decisions regarding hiring of staff member, renting an additional office, expanding its service, etc., it is met by a threat by the 708 Board of cutting off county tax funds.

In September 1970, as the new fiscal year approached, mental health agencies were instructed by 708 to prepare detailed budget requests and were told that early budget hearings would be held.

Shortly after budget requests were sent in to the county, prior to any budget hearings, newspapers throughout the county reported the 708 Board had reported plans to allocate $60,000 to the county mental health agency in the county. This represented a sizeable cut to all agencies.

Shortly after reading of the drastic cuts proposed, directors of the mental health agencies met and jointly requested the 708 Board to hold budget hearings. The 708 Board set time aside at its next meeting to hear pleas from the agencies as to why they could not tolerate such drastic cuts.

As a result of this meeting, the Madison County allocation was increased from $60,000 to $70,000, the Alton clinic's allocation from $80,000 to $82,000 and Specialized Services from $60,000 to $65,000. Suicide Prevention Service from $40,000 to $42,000. Madison-St. Charles Counties was refused funding entirely.

The 708 Board could give this clinic no explanation as to why $70,000 was allocated as opposed to the $112,000 that had been requested. Other agencies which were cut also were given no explanation.

There has been no vacancy on the 708 Board and other members have threatened to resign as a result of the state's attorney's office having advised them that mental health programs should not be drastically

Day Treatment To New Posts At GC Steel

Two promotions at Granite City Steel Co. were announced today. Russell C. Solomon has been appointed assistant to the president and director of metallurgy and quality control, and Eloy M. Cueto has been appointed assistant manager of operations.

Mr. Solomon will supervise the department responsible for the quality and metallurgical control of Granite City Steel's flat rolled steel products. He is a graduate (BS in Metallurgical Engineering) of the University of Missouri-Rolla and started with Granite City Steel in 1935.

He has been superintendent of operations, divisional superintendent, rolling and finishing departments, and manager of the department of metallurgy and inspection in 1967. He lives in East St. Louis.

Mr. Cueto also was graduated from the University of Missouri-Rolla. He started with Granite City Steel in 1949, became assistant to the superintendent of metallurgy and inspection in 1961, manager of customer contacts in 1963 and director of metallurgy and inspection in 1967. He lives in East St. Louis.

Burglary Charge Filed Against GC Veteran, 21

Larry E. McKenzie, 21, of 2104 State St., was arrested at 6 p.m. Monday on a charge of burglary at the home of Theodore Delmus, 310 Willow Ave., last Jan. 2.

Loot there included a television set, radio, camera and binoculars.

Police said McKenzie, recently released from the state penitentiary, admitted that he and two other men were involved in other garage and house burglaries, with loot ranging from a color television set to a snow plow.

One of the others, Robert Fernandez, 18, of Granite City, was charged with burglary at the West Side Service Station on Feb. 14.

McKenzie was sentenced in magistrate court to five days in jail on a charge of having no current identification card. Bail was set at $75 on the burglary charge. He was taken to the Madison County Jail at Edwardsville.

House Windows Broken

A 50 m. c. n. threw a brick through the front window of the home of Betty Beilman, 2267 State St., she reported at 8:35 p.m. Wednesday. A storm window also was broken.

cut unless a reasonable explanation can be given.

Our hope for the coming year, as far as local funding is concerned, is that vacancies on the 708 Board can be filled by individuals who have the mental health interests of the county as their first priority.

The relationship of the center with Department of Mental Health facilities is as follows. Alton State Hospital, Alton State Hospital is used by the clinic as a last resort for the patients who are actively psychotic and too severely ill to benefit from outpatient treatment.

The pre-care and after-care programs that are proposed would be a joint effort of the Zone, the hospitals and the clinics for the coming year.

The program, proposing two after-care teams functioning in each of the two catchment areas in the county, would combine staffs of the hospitals and clinics to coordinate services more effectively.

The clinic's relationship with Sub-Zone VII has been a favorable one. Charles Townsend of the sub-zone staff aids the clinic by spending one day each week at the day care program.

The staff is usually available to assist in every way it can when called upon. Dr. Jane Joseph, director of the sub-zone, usually attends clinic board meetings in order to interpret department policy.

The clinic staff has urged the Sub-Zone to take active role in pointing out mental health needs in the county as viewed by the Department of Mental Health.

Regional Report--Budget Slashes Proposed College Funds

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation) Gov. Ogilvie's proposed budget for the fiscal year beginning July 1 brought smiles to some and frowns to others in this region.

The St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority is budgeted for the $1 million it requested. Increased activity at Cahokia Mounds State Parks is proposed in the new budget, which contains funds for a full-time archaeologist, two technical assistants and research and excavation projects.

On the other hand, the governor is prepared to cut $187 million from the $839 million recommended by the Illinois Board of Higher Education for the operation of the state universities and junior colleges. Ogilvie's request for a reduction of 21% is in addition to cuts of from 5% to 10% in projected spending, already proposed by the Higher Education Board.

The governor's recommendations could mean a decrease of about $30 million for the twin-campus SIU system, from the spending levels listed as necessary.

The 1970 total population for the bi-county area was $36,110, according to the final figures released by the U. S. Bureau of the Census. The ever-half-million people represent an increase of nearly 50,000 in the ten years since 1960.

The largest county in the region is still St. Clair, with 285,176 people in 1970, followed closely by Madison County with 250,934.

This region contains nearly one-quarter of the 2,384,000 people who resided in the bi-state St. Louis region in 1970.

In the face of developing opposition from some Missouri quarters, Gov. Ogilvie reaffirmed his commitment to the development of the second major St. Louis airport in Illinois and to work in close cooperation with Mayor Cerverante on this project.

In his announcement, the governor noted that none of the information that has been recently presented detracts from the merits of the plan for the development of the new airport on an Illinois site as proposed in April of last year.

In other airport-related news, a group calling itself the "Citizens Committee for a Regional Airport" met to discuss the location of the proposed airport and the creation of the proposed "Freight City."

Leroy Hard, president of the Monroe County Electric Cooperative, is chairman of the new committee, which has annual dues of from $100 to $1,000, with a $1000 membership entitling the member to a place on the board of directors.

This region will contain even more trees this summer thanks to the efforts of several area organizations.

The Women's Division of the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce is developing a proposal that calls for the planting of trees on major thoroughfares in the cities of Granite City, Madison and Venice.

Project Trees, an Edwardsville area community group which directed the planting of trees in the downtown Edwardsville area last fall, is preparing a publicity campaign to encourage the planting of trees in front of homes and stores. The planned material would include information on the types of desirable trees, methods of planting, and requirements for care of the trees.

In the Alton area, Pride, Inc., has been encouraging the planting of trees for some time.

Several rezoning requests have been made for property in this area. The city of Madison has requested the rezoning of 154 acres of land near the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge from an agricultural to an industrial classification.

The case of the rezoning necessary for the development of a shopping center has been referred to the St. Clair County Zoning Appeals Committee; one group, called the Concerned Parents and Citizens, is opposing the development, while another group with a similar name, Concerned Citizens and Taxpayers, is encouraging its establishment.

In Edwardsville, a request for the rezoning of the old "shale pit" area along Illinois rt. 157 to a multi-family classification was approved by the Edwardsville Zoning Board of Appeals.

In general area news, the Madison-Macoupin County Inter-city Water Commission has voted to build a lake to supply the water for its 18-community system; Granite City Steel Co. has ordered a $150,000 baghouse cleaner system for its sinter plant; John Flamer is now the president of the Metro-East Labor Council, Inc.; and Francis Foley has been elected president of the Western Illinois Law Enforcement Commission.

Dyer for Mayor? Subs Sparkle as Warriors Nose Out Flyer Five 47-45

Granite City candidates will not be on the ballot until April, and that's fine with them. If the balloting was in March, almost any of the officers might be won by six-foot, two-inch Kevin Dyer, a junior at Granite City High School and basketball forward who scored a four-foot shot with one second left last night.

The 47-45 victory over East St. Louis propelled the Warriors into the sectional championship game at 7:30 p.m. Friday at Edwardsville High School against Gillespie, 64-63 conqueror of Triad Tuesday night.

Two more wins—in the sectional finale and in next Tuesday's super-sectional game at Charleston—would place GCHS in the "elite eight" state finals Friday, March 19, and Saturday, March 20, at Campagna-Urbana.

How Sweet It Is
The Warriors matched the Flyers' record at 21-8 with last night's win as they denied East St. Louis Coach Pick Dehner a 500th career victory. GCHS Coach Donald Deterding is a few short of that figure but could care less after the sweet win achieved by his young but mature squad.

Behind 15-13 after one period, GCHS was ahead 26-21 at halftime and 38-35 after three periods. But the Flyers moved in front at 39-38 before Terry Ripka's super-sectional game at Charleston—would place GCHS

65 Ripka was destined to be hurt later in the game but probably will be able to play Friday. He was cut over the left eye when his glasses broke, and he needed 11 stitches.

Score Deadlocked
A Dyer free throw made it 41-39, with Cedric McKinley's basket knotting it at 41-41. When Ripka hit two free throws and Maurice Horton meshed a field goal, it was 43-43 with three minutes left.

Horton missed a shot but the Flyers rebounded, were held to a jump ball later and then got the tip. GCHS stole it, Dyer passing to John Ireland and Wallace, but John Jackson stole the ball and the Flyers took time out with two minutes to play.

By the next Flyer timeout, 68 seconds from the final buzzer, Antany Dale had hit a field goal and James Moton had grabbed possession. The bleeding Ripka left the gym at this point, and the outlook was bleak.

But the Cinderella Granite Cityans turned the Flyers into pumpkins. Boog Wiggins fouled with 39 seconds left and the Warriors grabbed the missed free throw and called time.

Substitute Turns Tide
Ireland, having replaced Ripka, scored on a 15-foot jump shot and was fouled by Horton with 20 seconds left. The foul shot failed but it was a 45-45 game and the alert Warriors grabbed a rebound.

Strategy was plotted during a timeout with 17 seconds left and the Warriors wisely waited to make their move until it was too late for the enemy to get to the other end of the court. Neat passing led to Dyer's decisive goal, Ireland having relayed the ball to him.

Much of the credit goes to the Warriors' 9-11 free throw shooting compared to the Flyers' 9-13. GCHS was 19-42 from the field to East St. Louis' 21 of 32. The Warriors led in rebounds 27-28, DeKuntz and Ripka getting six each, Wallace five and Dyer, four.

Scoring besides Ripka were Wallace six, DeKuntz five, Wiggins four, Chuck Kraus and Dyer three apiece and Ireland, two. Horton led the losers with 14 points.

Rapoff Bantams Score 2-0 Win

Rapoff Realty tallied two goals and scored a shut out over Webster Groves in a Granite City Amateur Hockey Assn. match Monday at Wilson Park rink.

Scoring for the Bantam Division locals were Don Augustine and Bobby Schall. Assists were credited to Scott Taft and Ken Sabol.

Rapoff goalie Jimmy Gasparovic earned the shut out victory. The locals will meet Valley Hockey Club (League) at 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in the three-day, second annual Granite City Invitational Hockey Tournament slated at Wilson Park.

Boat, Sports Show To Open on Friday

About 30,000 persons, including many from the Quad-Cities, are expected to attend a boat and sports show to open Friday at the Belle-Claire Fairgrounds Exposition Hall, 200 S. Belt East, near Belleville.

The event is open to the public and both parking and admission are free. Featured in the show will be 40 boats from row boats to cruisers and 30 booths displaying all types of fishing and sports equipment. The exhibition will also include 20 camper trailer units.

The show will be open from 6 to 10 p.m. Friday, noon to 10 p.m. Saturday and noon until 6 p.m. Sunday.

Essington Tops Cougar Cage Team with 17.5 Point Average

Final basketball statistics of the 1970-71 Southern Illinois University-Southwestern season show three players finishing almost in a dead heat for scoring honors.

The Cougars, under first year coach Jim Dudley, fought their way to the first winning season in the school's short basketball history, posting a 15-11 record. Last year, SIU-SW had a 7-16 record. Varsity basketball was inaugurated at the campus four seasons ago under the coaching of Harry Gallatin, now athletic head and golf coach.

Number one point-maker was senior Rich Essington, former Venice High prep star. The 5-11 Essington, a clever ball-handler and deadly outcourt marksman, topped John "Champ" Summers, another senior, and sophomore lefty Denny Thronberg, in point-making. He averaged 17.5 per game. Summers, who led SIU-SW in scoring a year ago with a 22-point average, took second place with a 16.73 average, edging out Thronberg who averaged 16.28 per game.

In fourth place was the Cougars' junior center, 6-8 Gene Bounds, who averaged 8.77 per game. The former St. Anthony High of Effingham, Ill., who was coming strong as the season ended, finished second in rebounding to Summers. Bounds averaged 7.58 caroms a game to Summers' team-leading 7.92.

Summers played his prep ball at Madison High, Thronberg went to Westfield High.

Twenty wrestlers from Granite City elementary and junior high schools will compete in the Illinois sectional wrestling tournament for pre-high-school students Saturday in Centralia.

Three from Here Are Sectional Referees

Three educators in the Granite City school district are serving as referees in sectional basketball tournaments this week.

Frank L. Kraus, assistant superintendent of the district, and Russell Chappel, a mathematics teacher at Granite City High School are officiating at the Carbondale Central sectional and Keith Parker, a physical education instructor at Coolidge Junior High is one of the officials at the Decatur meet.

Consumers shop more carefully today. Here's why they buy Fords.

Ford LTD, quiet and strong, is the luxury car without the luxury car price.

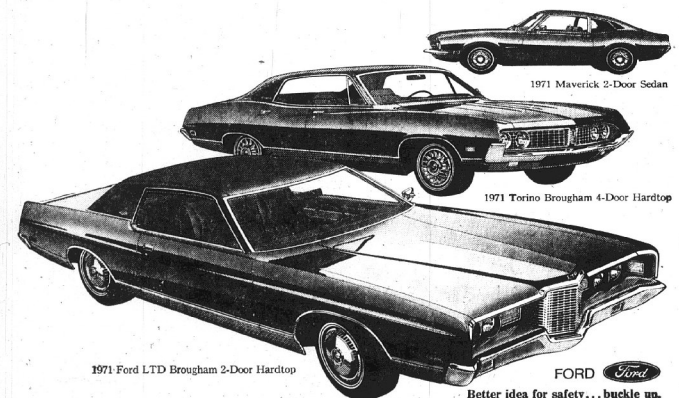

Ford LTD is the car that can match the luxury of cars costing hundreds of dollars more. And LTD's quiet ride is the standard that those more expensive cars have to match themselves. That quiet strength is one reason for consumers choosing LTD over all other luxury cars in its class.

Torino is sized and priced right in the middle. Room for six, small car handling.

Consumers know the mid-size Torino gives them the roominess of a big car plus the easy handling of a small car. For a price that's right in the middle. As a result, Torino has become the most popular 4-door in its class. Your Ford Dealer has thirteen other models to choose from.

Maverick, the simple compact car, offers 2 doors or 4; 6 or V-8 power.

Take Maverick. Consumers know that the simple machine is simple to own and simple to run. And they learned recently that a leading independent survey found Maverick has the best frequency of repair record of any American car. That might explain why it's America's best-selling compact.

Wrestlers Have Good Season, Prospects Better for Next Year

The Wrestling season for Granite City High School has not been as good as in past years, but Coach Bill "Red" Schmitt's Warriors still accumulated an impressive record of 14 wins and three losses in dual meets and 458 individual matches this year. Warrior wrestlers won 294, lost 150 and gave up 14 draws for a total of 1,078 team points.

The squad was credited with two wrestlers being placed in the state finals, four state qualifiers, two sectional champions, four district champions and wins in the Granite City quadrangular tournament, the conference tournament and the district tournament.

Set Records
The conference victory was the Warriors' 14th in a row at that level, the same number of for the district crown, a state record they won in 1964. He took a winning streak of 17 straight sectional wins however, was shattered, this season. Near the end of the season the Granite City squad earned its 150th consecutive victory against Southern Illinois teams and at the end of the season the record was unbroken at 156. Leading the Warrior charge this season were senior Co-Capt. Mike Garland (119) and junior Doug Wilson (126). Both accumulated 124 team points, although Garland led in the number of victories (34) and the number of pins (16). Garland gave up only six matches this season and maneuvered to only one draw situation.

Wilson was credited with 32 wins, 11 by pins, 11 losses and two draws, enough to tie for first place in the squad in the season point standings. Coach Schmitt said that with juniors like Wilson returning next year the outlook is promising for an even better season next year.

Wilson was the Granite City quadrangular tournament champion and took crowns in the Ritenour and the Southwest High School (Mo.) invitational tournament. He was also fourth in the state after holding second place trophies for the district and sectional tournaments. Garland leaves the high school wrestling forum with championships in the Granite City quadrangular meet, the annual holiday tournament here, the conference championship and having been a state qualifier. He earned a second-place berth in the sectional tournament.

Third in the point standings was senior Co-Capt. Tom Eaton

(132) with 98 points. Eaton finished this season with 29 wins, six by falls, and eight losses. His record for the two years he wrestled at Granite City includes this year's successful season and four matches last year, all losses.

Eaton took championships this season in the Ritenour, holiday and conference tournaments and was second in the district tournament.

Senior Bruce Miller (105), who placed sixth in the state finals, is one of only two men on this year's squad who has wrestled three years for Schmitt. He finished the season with 95 points for fourth place but in overall points he leads with 247. This season he was credited with 28 wins, 11 by pins, six losses and one draw. In his high school career he has won 67 matches, 23 by pins, lost 28 and had two draws.

He took championships this year in the Hazelwood conference, district and sectional tournaments. He returned to state this year to make a second appearance, the first having been in 1970.

Bruce Miller is from a well-known wrestling family. He has an older brother who is former champion and a younger brother who placed high in this year's team standings.

Heavyweight Mark Mizerski led the team point standings to the mid-point of the season, the annual holiday tournament here, but an injury two weeks before the conference tournament caused him to fall into fifth place in the point standings by the end of the season. Mizerski, a senior, retires from prep wrestling with a championship in the Ritenour tournament.

He split his time during the season between wrestling and football, and was highly successful at each. He made All-American in football and finished his wrestling season with 21 wins, 14 by falls, six losses and one draw for 83 points.

Senior Rich Sajak (145) finished in sixth place with a season record, in the above order, of 18-13-17-7 for 78 points. In seventh place with 73 points was senior Rich Sajak (145) who finished with a record of 23-5-16-0.

Other wrestlers, their year in school, season records and team points follow:

Tom Kalert (185), junior, 15-15-1, 69 points; Mike Wilson (167), senior, 19-7-14-1, 67; Gary Loy (98), sophomore, 20-5-11-1, 66; Harry Miller (112), junior, 14-7-4-2, 53; Lenny Fuchs (112), junior, 11-4-0-1, 46; Charlie Mayfield (138), junior, 10-1-12-0, 35; Craig Stephens (heavyweight), junior, 6-3-3-1, 27; Chris Harizal (112), junior, 4-2-3-4, 16; Kerry Johnson (112), sophomore, 4-1-2-0, 15; Kevin Niebur (119), junior, 2-0-3-0, 6; and Tom Huff (106), junior, 1-1-7-0, 5 points.

Prospects for next year are excellent as six wrestlers from the team which started out in the district meet will be returning. They are, Loy, Harry Miller, Doug Wilson, Mayfield, Kalert, and Stevens. Also returning will be Kerry Johnson, Harizal and Niebur, and there is an outside possibility that Fuchs may return to the varsity lineup.

Blood Donors are Needed To Assist Injured Boys

Donors are needed to replace blood used to treat three brothers seriously injured in an auto accident Feb. 27, in which a fourth brother was killed. All lived in the Pontoon Beach area and attended local schools until a short time ago.

A hospital fund to which the public may contribute has been established by Disabled American Veterans, Chapter 53 of Granite City, to help the family, it was learned.

The three injured youths are Eddie, 16, Richard, 14 and John, 11, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Harmon, 2 Al's Drive, Fenton, Mo., formerly of 21 Lakeview Drive. All remain in serious condition at Missouri-Pacific Hospital, St. Louis.

Their brother, Thomas, 18 years, a former Granite City High School student, was killed in the two-car crash near St. Clair, Mo., which also claimed the life of a 26-year-old woman in the other vehicle.

Discharged 24 Hours

Thomas had received a medical discharge from the U. S. Navy just 24 hours before his death. He entered the service nine months earlier. While a student at the local high school, he had served as a Candy Stripper volunteer at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Still in critical condition in the Intensive Care Unit at Missouri-Pacific Hospital is Ed. Harmon, who suffered fractures of both legs and arm, a crushed left ankle and facial and mouth injuries. He underwent lengthy surgery Saturday. Undergoing surgery last week were Richard, 14, now removed from intensive care, who sustained fractures to both legs, jaw and ribs and mouth and ear injuries; and John, whose injuries include a fractured skull and leg, extensive mouth damage and internal injuries.

The three boys will require additional surgery and extended hospital confinement, a family spokesman said.

Ask Cards be Withheld

Mr. and Mrs. Harmon requested that "get well" cards and other communications be withheld from the hospitalized youths. Due to the seriousness of their injuries, the brothers have not yet been informed of their older brother's death, the parents explained.

Persons wishing to donate blood may do so by going to the American Red Cross Missouri-Illinois Region Blood Center, 4601 Washington Ave., St. Louis. The blood should be designated for the Harmon brothers.

Mrs. Mary Busler was appointed to supervise a hospital fund initiated by the local DAV Chapter to assist the Harmon family, it was announced.

Contributions may be sent to: The Harmon Hospital Fund, c/o Hospital Chairman, DAV Auxiliary, 1417 Nineteenth St., Granite City.

Price Calls for Study of U. S. Energy Resources

Congressman Melvin Price has announced that he has introduced a resolution to establish a select house committee that would conduct a complete investigation of all aspects of the energy resources of the United States.

"The primary reason behind the legislation," Rep. Price said, "is there has been an ever increasing demand for electricity and power fuel in this country."

"There has been a constant threat of power shortages that will continue into the summer. If Congress does not undertake a full study of these resources, these shortages may continue through most of the 1970's."

"The select committee," Rep. Price explained, "would investigate the availability and distribution of energy resources, compile its data and report its findings and recommendations to the House."

Congressman Price pointed out that because a study of this nature is beyond the resources and jurisdiction of any existing committee, it is necessary to establish a select committee whose sole task would be the investigation of this problem.

"It is my belief," he concluded, "that the creation of this committee will produce comprehensive national policies for assuring the most efficient utilization of energy resources."

Rex Manninger Named Post 51 Commander

Rex Manninger was appointed acting commander of Amvets Post 51 to complete the term of William Sherman who has left the state, and voted to contribute $25 to the Ronald Laboratory Fund. Both actions were taken at a business meeting last night at Amvets Post Home, 5100 Lakeside Drive.

Manninger, a former Post 51 commander and current vice commander, will serve in the group's top post until elections in June.

In other business, members voted to present an Amvets membership card to Sister Cornelia "Fuzz," a Sister of Divine Providence who is working with the Pontoon Beach Police Department.

Leo Clements, Amvets Division 5 commander and a member of Post 51 announced his intention to run for commander of Division 3, 4 and 5, at the state convention in Peoria, set for June. The area covers the state of Illinois with exception of Chicago.

Steve Konkovich was appointed to head a committee responsible for erecting 100 U. S. Flags along a section of Madison Avenue prior to Memorial Day. Clements gave reports on a weekend meeting of the Amvets State Scholarship Committee at Mount Vernon which he heads, and announced a state executive board session, set April 17 in Chicago.

A traditional corned beef and cabbage supper will be served at the Amvets Post Home, starting at 6 p.m. Saturday, Manninger advised.

Calvo Vows Support of Pollution Grant Plea

State Representative Horace L. Calvo (D-Granite City) pledged his support of a $26,000 federal grant application to set up full-time air pollution department here during a meeting with the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board Monday night in city hall.

Calvo promised the board he would meet with William L. Blaser, new director of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency, in Springfield, and will ask his support of the program, according to Henry S. Bionicki, chairman of the local board.

Calvo told the board that former EPA director C. W. Klasing, who refused to support the Granite City application because of what he termed "insufficient funds, had not spent all of the money appropriated to his department when he resigned."

In other action the board granted a variance to the Nestle Co., until July 31 to replace a tea processing machine which is emitting particles into the air. The variance follows a similar one given the company by the state last month.

SIU Board Aware of Plan To Develop Festival Site

Southern Illinois University-Southern campus has provided a breakdown of costs for development of the Mississippi River Festival site on its campus, showing a total of $862,418.90, in the face of legislative criticism of the development.

A hearing is scheduled next Thursday at Edwardsville, called by State Rep. Philip Collins (R-Chicago), following criticism in Chicago on expenditures for the project being in excess of $1 million. He is chairman of the House Higher Education Committee.

It was noted that at its meeting of Nov. 20, 1968, the SIU Board of Trustees agreed to construct temporary, multipurpose use facilities for the first season of the festival in the summer of 1969. Cost was not considered, but plans were made for seasons in 1970, 1971 and 1972 depending upon appropriations.

The site was to include a suitable stage and shell, some covered or sheltered area for

Two Gold Medal Winners in United States Figure Skating Association contests will be featured performers in the Granite City Park District's third annual "Ice Show," to be presented at 7 p.m. Monday at Wilson Park rink pavilion. No admission will be charged spectators.

Several local figure skaters will appear in the show, which will spotlight dance sequences, solo numbers and production routine, a hockey game scrimmage and an exhibition of speed skating, according to Bill Hodges, rink manager.

Gold Medalists who will appear here are Andria Wythe and Maggie Kirby of St. Louis.

Cost Breakdown

Largest items in the development's cost were architectural services, $127,573; stage erection, $108,336; and tent erection and maintenance, $100,851.

Others included electrical, $30,041; sound equipment and services, $36,751; plumbing and sewage, $42,313; access roads, $45,000; roads, drives and walks, $21,732; service road.

Vandalism Blamed for $22,500 House Fire

Vandalism was blamed for one of two fires within a 12-hour period which destroyed a frame home owned by Bernard V. Sobol, 2770 Iowa St., an investigation disclosed this week. Total loss was estimated at $15,000 to the dwelling and more than $7,500 to the contents.

Assistant Fire Chief Charles Hileman said the kitchen, back entranceway and a stairwell apparently had been doused with gasoline. A gasoline can was found in the middle of the kitchen floor. "Whoever did it made no attempt to hide their actions," Hileman said.

Firemen initially responded to an alarm at the residence at 1:22 p.m. Thursday, and extinguished a blaze which started from apparent accidental causes in an attic closet on the second floor. Hileman said that items stored in the closet may have caused spontaneous combustion. Between $8,000 and $10,000 damage resulted from the first fire.

The dwelling was completely water soaked from efforts to put out Thursday's blaze when a second fire started at 1:50 a.m. Friday, Hileman said.

As firemen arrived at the scene, the fire was "raging pretty strong," the official said. The amount of water used to extinguish the earlier fire precluded the second starting accidentally, he pointed out.

The living room and bedrooms were barely touched by the flames which were confined to the rear of the house, dining area, upper floors and roof, the assistant chief noted. The family was not home at the time of the early morning blaze.

Rotarians Await Dance And District Gathering

Plans for a St. Patrick's dinner-dance given by Rotary-Ann on Saturday and for the 1971 conference of Rotary District 646 were reviewed at Tuesday's weekly luncheon of the Granite City Rotary Club. President John Polson dismissed the group early so that it could attend the Granite City 75th anniversary kickoff program.

The district convention will begin Friday evening, April 16, at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn and continue Saturday, April 17, at SIU-SW, where the annual district governor's banquet will be held. A dance at the Sunset Hills Country Club will follow. On Sunday, April 18, there will be talks by Lt. Gov. Paul Simon and by a representative of the president of Rotary International.

John Haynes, Madison Fifth Ward alderman and deputy sheriff, was installed as a member by Frank Egan.

In honor of St. Patrick's day, Father Terry O'Shea will present the program next week. Jerry Maeras is program chairman.

Clay Good--Not Good Enough, Speaker Says

"The Louisville lip has been buttoned," Madison Rotarian E. Stanley Howlett, former professional heavyweight fighter and now a personnel officer with Granite City Steel Co. He told the Madison Rotary Club Wednesday noon in a meeting at the Madison Recreation Center, Seventh and Lee streets.

After viewing the fight on closed circuit television, Howlett observed:

"The fight game was going down hill fast until Clay came along. He would go to any lengths to dramatize a fight and to up interest. Clay was a victim of autogestosis. He convinced himself he was good, and he was, but not as good as he thought."

"Clay has great hand speed, which is moving your hands from a cocked position to point of impact, but is not a hard hitter."

"Frazier has a slower hand speed but is a heavy hitter. He hits like Marciano, who hit too hard for his own good which caused him to break his hand on occasion."

"Instead of fighting his own style Clay fought Frazier's style and got beat. If I were scoring the rounds, I'd give 11 rounds to Frazier and four to Clay."

Frazier was Aggressor

"Frazier was the aggressor all the way. Clay did a lot of talking, and talked himself into defeat. The more he talked, the harder Frazier fought."

When asked by one of the Rotarians if there will be a rematch, Howlett said, "Although they don't put a return bout clause in contracts anymore, the public will demand another fight as they will want to see a knock out."

The club elected to the board of directors for the coming year, Richard Suess, Wayne Scannel, Tony Zedek, Larry Palkes, Leo Schermer, and Harvey Miller.

John Haynes, Madison Fifth Ward alderman and deputy sheriff, was installed as a member by Frank Egan.

In honor of St. Patrick's day, Father Terry O'Shea will present the program next week. Jerry Maeras is program chairman.

National Magazine Features Pontoon Nun-Police Officer

Sister Mary Cornelia of the Sisters of Divine Providence—a policewoman for the village of Pontoon Beach—is the subject of two pages of words and pictures in the March 12 issue of "Life" magazine, published this week.

Originally featured in the Press-Record photograph and news columns on Jan. 14, "Sister Fuzz" in February was spotlighted in Madison County, St. Clair County and St. Louis newspapers and then in wire dispatches printed by many newspapers throughout the U. S. Last week, she appeared on a network television news program.

The "Life" article, "Nun Turns Gun-Toting Cop to Help with the Drug Problem," relates that "the religious life certainly isn't what it used to be, and nuns are only a part of the news story."

Loaded Revolver

"Sister Cornelia of the Sisters of Divine Providence, for example, never steps out of her habit. But each day, after morning prayers, the sister returns to her convent room in Pontoon Beach, Ill., and straps on a leather belt hung with a loaded .38-caliber revolver, a bullet pouch and handcuffs.

"Thus armed, she drives to the police department to report for duty."

Sister Cornelia decided to volunteer for the force a year ago after she was mugged in a parking lot by two junkies. "I wanted to help them."

"Today, the 41-year-old nun, affectionately known as 'Sister Fuzz,' doubles as a Pontoon Beach juvenile officer and a deputy sheriff for Madison County."

"She divides her time between giving blunt drug lectures to school children and counseling young drug offenders and runaways at the County Detention Home."

Former Air Force Major

"The gun-toting nun has become the subject of local controversy, and one citizen has threatened to complain to the Pope about her gun. But, in fact, Sister Cornelia, a nun for 20 years, has long been familiar with firearms, having served in Korea as an Air Force major."

"She does not hesitate to use judo. But would she use her gun if she saw a man committing a crime?"

"No, I guess not," she says. "I'd probably just belt him with it."

One picture shows her loading her weapon and quotes her as saying, "It's no good having a bark if you don't have a bite as well."

Teacher 17 Years

As noted in the Press-Record, she is a member of the International Association of Investigators and Special Police.

She holds a degree in criminal law and procedures, and has taught for 17 years at all grade levels.

A veteran of six years in the Air Force, she is a Sister of Divine Providence of the Motherhouse in Normandy, Mo., and lives with other nuns at the St. Elizabeth convent on Pontoon Road, Granite City.

Primarily a juvenile officer in her police duties, she spoke on "The Juvenile Code" or "Why Laws Are Necessary" at the Jan. 20 dinner meeting of the Granite City Business and Professional Women's Club.

Lenten Speaker

In the ecumenical spirit of this era, she was invited to speak at a non-Catholic church, St. John's United Church of Christ (Evangelical and Reformed) at one of its Lenten services this month.

Sister Cornelia was described by the pastor, Rev. Paul Barbey, as "one of the area's most successful workers with youth. Her radiant personality and down-to-earth methods bring out the very best in the youth of our community."

In her address at St. John's Church, she said a "spiritual curtain" separates some young people from religion, and urged that ways be sought to overcome it.

Speaking to youngsters in the audience, she said that willingness to "be kind to everyone we meet is a real test of religion." She noted that it is hard to find hair, and suggested that each person be judged as an individual rather than being stereotyped as a member of a group.

Love, Understanding

Children would have less tendency to regard their parents as old-fashioned and out of touch if parents would "give their best listening ear" to the topics that concern young people, Sister Cornelia commented.

She stressed the importance of children being able to feel they are loved by their parents.

While answering questions, she described her gun as "just part of my uniform." She acknowledged that she is proficient at karate as well as judo.

Her nickname was supplied by a boy at school where she spoke on law enforcement. She prefers an informal approach and spends much time telling students why it is necessary to adopt and obey laws.

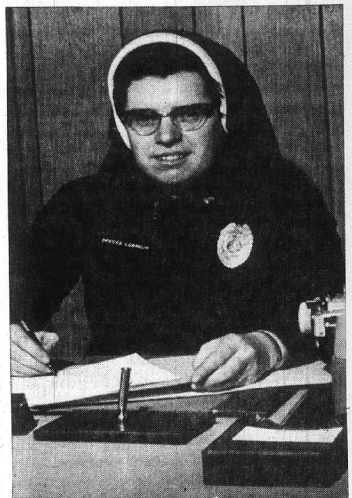

Daughter of a part-time Lutheran minister in Wisconsin, she has nine brothers and five sisters.

Skis, Skates, Swims

Her interests while growing up included swimming, hunting, water skiing, skiing, ice skating and roller skating. Her parents reside in Ohio now and are widely scattered.

Her fiancé was killed in the Korean war and she suffered a severe wound of the left leg while serving as a flight air nurse in Korea.

She has traveled extensively. Her 17 years of teaching have included the Motherhouse Boys' Boarding School, Normandy; St. Andrew's School, Tipton, Mo.; Annunciation School, California, Mo.; St. John's School, Chapeau, Mo.; and St. Elizabeth School, Granite City.

OFFICER CORNELIA. A member of the Sisters of Divine Providence, she is shown in her role as a Pontoon Beach village police department juvenile officer.

A resident of Belleville, Mrs. Wheeler is the wife of Frank Wheeler, who directed the 1967 campaign to raise funds for St. Elizabeth Hospital's expansion program. The new appointee served as associate director for the fund-raising drive.

In addition to other duties, Mrs. Wheeler will handle a portion of the work for which Mother Mary Paul was responsible before moving to the Motherhouse in Normandy, Mo., as the new Mother Superior.

Sister Mary Thomas said that Mrs. Wheeler's initial duties will focus on the dedication program being planned for the new addition.

JOAN OF ARC, harrassed by her Inquisitors, prepares to be led to the stake at Rouen. The scene is from George Bernard Shaw's "Saint Joan," to be performed at 7:30 p.m. Monday, at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Ave., by the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Tex. Reserved seat tickets now are available from church members. General admission tickets may be purchased at the door.

Alpha-Omega Players to Offer 'Saint Joan' at Local Church

Was Joan of Arc truly a saint, or was she a constant thorn in the side of the state and the church, both of whom finally were forced to consign her to the flames at the stake to regain their own authority?

George Bernard Shaw ponders this question in his drama, "Saint Joan," which the Alpha-Omega Players of Dallas, Texas, will present at 7:30 p.m. Monday at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church, 20th Street and Delmar Avenue. The event is open to the public.

Patron tickets, costing $10 each and entitling two persons to the reserved seat section, are available from Niedringhaus Church members. General admission tickets may be purchased at the door before showtime at a cost of $1.50 per person.

Proceeds from the production go to the church building fund. Plans for a new sanctuary, youth facilities and office center to be constructed on the same site as the present building were announced earlier this week by the Reverend Roy L. Baugh, pastor.

Carl E. Mathias, Illinois Power Co. executive, is chairman of the 15-member Church Building Plans Committee which coordinated the planning work. Architectural drawings, prepared by P. John Hooper, Architects, St. Louis, have been approved by the congregation.

Plans are being completed for a fund-raising campaign to take place in late May and early June, after which bids will be sought to demolish the present structure and construct the new edifice.

Story of Faith

Monday evening's theatrical production, "Saint Joan," is the story of Joan of Arc's faith and inspiration, and depicts her multifaceted career from simple peasant girl to great heights and her final consummation in Rouen.

The roles of the men in Joan's history provide added excitement to the Alpha-Omega Players presentation, including the pompous Squire de Baudricourt, forceful and staunch Captain Dunois, the sympathetic but militant churchman Ladvenue, the childlike Dauphin and the sincere but sinister Inquisitor.

The Alpha-Omega Players have achieved a national reputation for offering great drama in the church, school and college. Last year their touring companies presented more than 600 performances in virtually every state of the union.

Critics have lauded the Players for an inspirational, and compelling picture of the moving episodes in the life of St. Joan of Arc, who changed the history of France, staged with a "sincere simplicity," most fitting for this soul-stirring enactment of a woman's faith.

MORE ABOUT Legislators

partment to raise the funds necessary for the project, but legislators present at the meeting indicated that if Malco-vich efforts failed they would attempt to pass an appropriation bill funding the expansion.

Vadalabene pointed out that Cahokia Mounds State Park is not one of the parks earmarked for funds in the governor's budget message this year. He said that all of the 953 acres of the state is scheduled to purchase this year are in the northern part of the state.

They are buying so much up there, there should be some priorities down here," the senator remarked.

Top Priority in Nation
He said that at the Dixon Mounds, in Fulton County, the state is funding a $1.5 million project to excavate the mounds.

SENIOR CITIZENS HOLD SING-A-LONG

The Anchorage and Kirkpatrick Homes Senior Citizens enjoyed a sing-a-long and musical program by the Rev. Richard Gossnell and a group of musicians from the Cedarview Baptist Church this week.

The program was held at the Anchorage Recreation Center. The group is headed by Mrs. Georgia Butler, president. Lee McClure is president of the Kirkpatrick Homes group. The Indians who lived there from about 800 A.D. to 1500 A.D.

A new type of shell tempered pottery was made some time after 800 A.D. was discovered there and a new type of house foundation, believed to have been built about 800 A.D. was found in one of the mounds.

One of the most important discoveries was a burial mound in which the body of a chief, laid on a blanket decorated with about 10,000 mother of pearl shell beads, was found. His remains were surrounded by the bones of six attendants, four of whose hands, hands and feet had been cut off, and 75 young women. Also found in the mound were two copper staffs, 15 game stones, a basket of mica and 785 arrowheads from various parts of the midwest.

MONKS MOUND Largest

The largest of all the mounds at the park, and the largest prehistoric Indian mound in North America, Mound located just north of Route 40 at the park.

Archaeologists have found that the mound was built in four terraces, the first begun about 900 A.D. and the top layer completed about 1150 A.D.

Remains of a large building, presumably a temple, were found on the back of the fourth terrace. The temple would have been more than 50 feet tall and the mound is 100 feet tall. The roof of the temple at a height equivalent to that of a 15 story building.

Numerous other finds have been made, including postholes for a huge fortress type wall that surrounded the city about 1500 A.D., part of which has been reconstructed. Part of the exact location remains unknown.

It was announced recently that about 100 archeologists, students and instructors from four college groups will begin a $50,000 excavation program at the park this summer in an attempt to learn more about the Indians who once inhabited the land there. The groups will be under the supervision of a three man committee named to promote development of the park.

Members of that committee are Reed, Charles Baris, instructor of archeology at the University of Wisconsin, and Dr. Melvin Fowler, professor of anthropology at the University of Wisconsin.

In addition, a full-time archeologist, James Anderson, the University of Wisconsin, has been hired and will assume his year-round duties in June.

The college groups working there this summer will be from the University of Illinois, the University of Wisconsin and Beloit College of Beloit, Wis.

"We have barely scratched the surface on this greatest historical find in the United States," Reed said. "There is much to do."

Bi-State Area Urged to Develop Non-Defense Business

A serious post-Vietnam economic conversion problem is likely to occur in this area over the next five years, according to a report to the governors of Missouri and Illinois made by the Regional Industrial Development Corporation (RIDC).

The Bi-State St. Louis area had an economic loss of about $458 million and an income loss of about $130 million in 1970 due to defense budget reductions, RIDC said in a 15-page report submitted to Missouri Governor Warren E. Hearnes and Illinois Governor Richard B. Ogilvie.

In an effort to offset this economic loss, RIDC suggested that state and local governments make special efforts to (1) maintain a diversified economy and increase new non-defense business; and (2) develop local programs to cope with problems of unemployment. RIDC said that the governors should appoint economic advisers to conduct research and formulate policy aimed at lessening the economic impact of defense and space spending cutbacks.

Influences Unemployment

Noting that defense-generated employment accounted for 4 percent of total employment in Missouri and 1.7 percent in Illinois in 1968, as contrasted with a national average of 3.6 percent, the report pointed out that defense spending cuts obviously increase the unemployment rate and reduce regional income.

Defense procurements and contracts in the United States totaled more than 4 percent of the Gross National Product in 1969, the report says, and in a few states and a few metropolitan areas, including St. Louis, Missouri and Illinois, the major defense industries represent a large part of the total manufacturing base.

Tackling economic and unemployment problems facing defense-oriented business of both states during the "wind-down" of the Vietnam conflict, the report pointed out that "tooling up" for defense and space missions during the 1950's and 1960's required "defense specialization, both in public and private institutions and manpower." It also notes that "there is a serious question as to their adaptability to civilian oriented purposes."

"The skills needed to be successful in military markets," RIDC says, "are simply not easily transferable to the commercial marketplace." The report discusses potential unemployment of workers now in military production industries and covers adjustment problems faced by returning Vietnam veterans. It also contains a series of suggestions that state and local governments might follow to help offset projected economic declines.

Urges New Growth

Specific policy to diversify the area's economic base can include virtually all economic development and plant location programs, RIDC said, but cautioned that the effort should be to increase new growth, not merely redistribute what would have taken place anyhow. "The goal, therefore," said RIDC, "should be to encourage both new and local firms to expand into new product areas which will provide a more permanent diversified economic base."

In discussing returns from Vietnam, the report said that while the half-million Americans in Vietnam comprise only about 0.7 percent of the total U. S. labor force, an increase from the present 6 percent unemployment rate to 8.7 percent "could prove nearly catastrophic."

While the most direct and effective policies must be implemented at the federal level, RIDC explained, state and local governments can make a significant contribution toward reducing the possibility of high unemployment rates during 5. Providing on-the-job training through such means as the formation of venture capital corporations and management assistance programs; conversion of defense industries.

Among other suggestions, the RIDC document recommends that state and local policy should concentrate on such matters as:

1. Encouraging federal spending on transportation, housing, medical and pollution control systems by contract with aerospace companies;
 2. Providing state tax incentives to stimulate commercial and other scientific research and development;
 3. Promoting joint industry-government financing of commercial research and development;
 4. Stimulating industry-university cooperation in conducting commercial and other non-defense research and development; and
 5. Encouraging engineers and scientists, can make the transition from defense to non-defense related fields;
 6. Providing wider, quicker and more complete information on jobs nationally through state employment agencies.
- To assist servicemen returning to civilian life, RIDC recommended a program of human resources development including training so that employees, including engineers and scientists, can make the transition from defense to non-defense related fields;

Additional funds from the federal government should be sought to help finance these projects, RIDC said. RIDC also recommended preferential treatment be given to veterans who want to go into business.

Percy Bill Would Create National Park in Illinois

U.S. Sen. Charles H. Percy (R-Ill.) has reintroduced a proposal that would authorize the creation of the Lincoln Home-Steved National Recreation Area in Illinois.

Speaking on the floor of the Senate, the Senator said, "The creation of a national park in Illinois is long overdue. Illinois is one of only five states that does not have a single National Park Service area within its borders. And, of these five states, it is the largest in area and most highly populated." As proposed, the Lincoln Home-Steved National Recreation Area would add 10,500 acres to the soon-to-be-constructed Lincoln Reservoir on the Embarras River in Coles County. The area is abundant in historic sites and natural beauty. To be located on the Lincoln Heritage Trail, the Recreation Area would include the Lincoln Home-Steved where Lincoln's father and stepmother lived from 1840 until their deaths.

It is close to the Moore House where Lincoln, as President-elect last visited his stepmother; the Shiloh Cemetery, burial place of Lincoln's father and stepmother; and the site of the Lincoln-Douglas Debate in nearby Charleston.

"The recreational possibilities of the Lincoln Reservoir area are ample. Adjacent woodlands and open spaces would provide a safe, convenient, and refreshing atmosphere for families and individuals of all ages to enjoy camping, boating, fishing, hiking, and riding.

Conservation Measure "The recreation, potential in nearby rural areas, such as the Charleston Parks, the Coles County Fairgrounds and the Lincoln Recreation Area also could provide desirable conservation of open spaces and preservation of wildlife," the Senator said.

"Midwesterners should be able to expect that the natural endowments of their area will be preserved. The Midwest has been called the 'forgotten step-child" as far as federal contributions to recreation are concerned. I am, therefore, hopeful that this will be changed, and that the Bureau of Outdoor Recreation and Secretary Morton will recommend that the Lincoln Home-Steved Recreation Area be authorized. I am confident that the Interior Committee, to which this bill is to be referred, will request such reports as soon as possible from the Department of Interior." The bill is co-sponsored by Senator Stevenson of Illinois and a similar bill has been introduced in the House by Congressman William Springer (R-Ill.).

COWBOY, INDIAN THEME FOR CUB SCOUT PACK 28

"Cowboys and Indians" was the theme for the Monday night meeting of Cub Scout Pack 28, sponsored by the Parkway PTA, held in the school cafeteria and presided over by Cubmaster Ed Monahan.

Den Three scouts, dressed as cowboys, were in charge of a flag ceremony. Taking part were Steve Spencer, Todd Lehmkuhl, Jimmy Lombardi, John Nash, Bobby Lovins, Brad Bucher and Kelly Corcoran, led by Mrs. Joanna Spencer and Mrs. Harriet Lovins.

Those present recited the pledge of allegiance and the Lord's prayer. Monahan introduced the dens, which exhibited crafts made during the past month.

Den One, under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Thornburg, presented a "pony express" play.

Den Two showed Indian lore projects, including tom-toms. The entire den constructed a large totem pole under the guidance of the den mothers, Mrs. Jean Bevins, Mrs. Donna McIlvoy and Mrs. Lois Winter.

Scouts of Den Three showed a model Indian village they had made. Members told of cowboy vests, spurs and knives made at den meetings.

Mrs. Betty Hackney and Mrs. Bonnie Wilkins presented their Den Four members in costume Indian dances. The boys had made beaded necklaces, bottlecap arm ornaments, nose-makers, tom-toms and varied costumes.

Den Five presented a costume Indian dance and play under the direction of Mrs. Bonnie Britton and Mrs. Marjorie Bradley. The scouts ended their presentation with the cry, "Akela, help us do our best."

Awards were presented by the cubmaster and the assistant cubmaster, Larry McIlvoy, to Bill Harvey, year pin; Tim McIlvoy, two-year pin; Jimmy Bevins and Steve Spencer, wolf badges; and Carl Gregory, bear badge. Recognized for birthdays during the month were Mrs. Wilkins, Steve Spencer and Tim McIlvoy.

Refreshments were served by mothers of Den Five. Announcement was made that the theme for the April meeting will be "Cub Scout Minstrels," and that an induction ceremony will be held for all new scouts.

CHURCH YOUTH TO BUY ATHLETIC EQUIPMENT

The Youth of Peace Lutheran Church met Sunday evening at the church, led by Connie Walsh, president, Lori Gendron, vice-president, Karen Bellinger, secretary, and Tom Schocker, treasurer.

Devotions were given by Lisa Gendron, Shannon Walsh will be in charge of the service at the next meeting.

Members voted to purchase athletic equipment, such as baseballs, bats, footballs and basketballs. Games were played and records were enjoyed. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Florence Bellinger to those named and Leslie Wittig, Kathy Lawson, Paul Solberger, Jackie Solberger, Mike Padi, Bernard Courtney and a visitor, Cindy Bellinger.

Plans were made for the next meeting March 21 at 1 p.m., when the group will meet at the church and then go to the Washington theatre.

Fatima Circle Plans Social

Fatima Circle, Daughters of Isabella, held its March meeting at the Knights of Columbus Hall with 60 members present. Miss Dorothy Hodebeck, regent, called the meeting to order and the opening prayer was offered by Mrs. Helen DeRuntz. The ways and means committee, Mrs. Margie Greenwald chairman, discussed final plans for a pillow case social to be held March 28 at 2 p.m. at St. Mary's Hall in Madison, and announcement was made of the D. of I. convention in Joliet in May. Those planning to attend are asked to make reservations early.

Miss Julianna Hodebeck reported on a Retreat scheduled for April 23-26 at The Canecio in St. Louis. Birthdays were celebrated at the meeting by Mrs. Rose Griffin, Mrs. Veronica Patrick and Mrs. Mary Ueblich.

A "guest night" will be held at the April meeting at St. Elizabeth cafeteria, preceded by a dinner at 6:30.

Former GC Pastor to Speak at Lenten Service

Sunday evening Lenten services are now being held at the Niedringhaus United Methodist Church.

The series began with the Rev. Wendell Garrison of Suburban Baptist Church preaching. The two congregations joined for a moving experience of worship. Following the worship hour the congregations had a period of fellowship in Wesley Hall with refreshments served by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the host church.

Next Sunday the guest minister will be the Rev. Vernie Barnett of Decatur, Ill., a former pastor of Niedringhaus Church from 1968 to 1969. For the past four years Rev. Barnett has been serving as pastor of Grace United Methodist Church in Decatur. Friends of the family are invited to attend the service. His topic will be "Step By Step."

Niedringhaus Church will host a Laboratory Training School March 21 through March 26. During this time the church school teachers will be observing certified teachers as they teach classes. Following dismissal of the class, the leaders in training will discuss the session and make plans for the next evening's training as a church school teacher or youth worker. The cost is $11 for one student and $10 if two or more attend from the same church.

REV. VERNIE BARNETT

Clothing, Used Autos, Some Grocery Items Now Cost Less

The Consumer Price Index rose 0.1% in January to 110.2 (1967 equals 100), the U.S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics has reported. The increase was the smallest since February 1967.

Higher prices for consumer services were largely offset by declines for used cars, apparel and some grocery store items. The January CPI was 5.2% above a year ago, the smallest 12-month rise since March 1969.

On a seasonally-adjusted basis, the January increase was 0.3% less than the 0.5% in December and the same as in November.

After allowance for seasonal variations, food prices averaged unchanged in January. The rise in prices of commodities other than food was 0.2% in January compared to 0.7% in December. The 0.6% advance in prices of consumer services was the lowest since last May.

Prices of food purchased in grocery stores declined 0.4% after seasonal adjustments. These prices have been approximately stable on average since February 1970.

Prices of meats and fresh fruits and vegetables declined instead of rising as they usually do between December and January. Prices of eggs and dairy products, which normally decline at this time of year, rose 0.3% and 0.2% respectively. Prices of cereal and bakery products, restaurant meals and other food consumed away from home rose somewhat more in January than in recent months.

Prices of nonfood commodities, seasonally adjusted, rose 0.3% in January, primarily because of declines for apparel commodities and used cars. The decrease in used car prices followed several months of increases.

Prices of apparel commodities after seasonal adjustment, declined 0.2%, the first drop since mid-1970. Gasoline and house prices advanced further but by considerably less than in the past month. New car prices rose instead of falling seasonally for the second consecutive month.

Lower Mortgage Costs

Charges for consumer services continued their uptrend in January despite a substantial drop in mortgage interest rates on Va-guaranteed and conventional mortgages. The household services component averaged unchanged over the month for the first time since March 1968 as lower mortgage interest costs offset increases in home maintenance and repair services, residential gas, electricity and telephone services.

The rate of increase in transportation service prices accelerated sharply in January primarily because of a substantial rise in auto insurance premiums. Prices of medical services were up 0.6% in January, somewhat less than last month.

Approximately 67,000 workers will receive cost-of-living wage increases based on the Consumer Price Index for January. About 30,000 workers will receive hourly pay increases ranging from two to five cents based on the change in the national index since October 1970. An additional 11,000 employees of General Dynamics Corporation in California, will get pay ranging from three to eight cents per hour based on the change in the national index since January 1970.

More than 20,000 transit workers in the Boston, Chicago, Los Angeles, and Pittsburgh areas will receive hourly pay increases ranging from one to 5.5 cents, based on the rise since October 1970 in the indexes for their areas.

More Purchasing Power
The purchasing power of the nation's rank-and-file workers rose in January. Real earnings advanced primarily as a result of increases in take-home pay caused by reductions in federal income tax withholding rates introduced in 1971.

Gross average weekly earnings of production and nonproduction workers edged up to $122.21 in January, a gain of 11 cents from December 1970 and $6.09, or 5.2%, from a year earlier. The increase was attributable to a three-cent rise in average hourly earnings, which more than offset a decline in the average workweek. After adjustment for price increases, gross weekly earnings were virtually unchanged both from the December level and from a year earlier.

Spending earnings — gross earnings after deduction of federal income and social security taxes — rose substantially in January, reflecting the 1971 changes in federal income tax withholding incorporated in the 1970 Tax Reform Act. Average take-home pay rose by 54 cents between December and January to $107.54 for the worker with three dependents. Over the year, spendable earnings were up by $5.57, or 5.5%.

Real Earnings Pattern
Real spendable earnings — take-home pay expressed in 1967 dollars to reflect consumer price changes — averaged 63 cents higher in January 1971 than a month earlier for the worker with three dependents. At $80.22, real take-home pay was 0.7% above the December 1970 level and 0.2% above a year ago but was still 2.9% below the all-time peak reached in September 1968.

Over the - month increases were reported for workers in all major industries except mining and contract construction. Final figures for the Wholesale Price Index of all commodities showed an increase of 0.7% between December and January.

An upswing in average farm and food prices after declines for three months was responsible for most of the higher rate of advance in January compared with recent months. The industrial commodities component rose 0.4%. Farm products were up 1.7%; processed foods and feeds advanced 0.9%.

The All Commodities Wholesale Price Index of 111.5 (1967 equals 100) was 2.9% above a year earlier. This was the smallest year - to - year increase since June 1968 except for December, when the same advance was shown.

The predominant impression is lightness and yet functional with touches of color.

The atmosphere is decidedly warm and friendly, reminiscent of a really good boutique or retail shop that caters to customers with extra personal attention and pleasure.

Youthful clients entering the "Nearly New Clothing Center," sponsored by the Quad-City Council of Church Women United, find the project completely unrelated to the usual "used clothing outlet."

The prevailing tone exudes nothing of a bargain basement type operation—despite its location beneath the offices of Coordinated Youth Services, 1255 Niedringhaus Ave.

Through the "Nearly New Clothing" program, the sponsors are attempting to provide students with gifts of clothing for school, with the desired hope that the self-image of young people will be improved, thereby creating new attitudes, self respect and dignity, according to Mrs. John (Joyce) Schrader, president of the Quad-City Council of Church Women United.

The center furnishes clothing items for students who are referred to the program by teachers, counselors, school nurses, juvenile and probation officers, social workers and other professional people who work closely with children.

Personal concern for each individual is the basic philosophy in operating the center, Mrs. Schrader explained. "Our program seeks to impress the youngsters that their gift of clothing is not charity, not a handout."

"This attitude went out of the door umpteen years ago in the Coordinated Youth Services office building. The project is sponsored by the Quad-City Council of Church Women United, headed by Mrs. Schrader as president.

who assisted at the "Nearly New Clothing Center" after school hours. "The girl commented this was the first time she had ever worn anything new. Always before she had dressed in hand-me-down clothing. Yet, at the time she was speaking, the teenager was wearing a dress obtained at the Center," Mrs. Schrader said.

Painted off-white, accented with vertical red and white striped wallpaper and sections of wood paneling, the center shopping area is equipped with a dressing room where clothing may be fitted in privacy. Mrs. Chris Presswood, Mrs. Robert Shands and Mrs. Margaret Rutter, volunteer workers from the Church Women United organization, frequently are called upon to use their skills in alteration and minor repair work and hemming garments.

Garments are tastefully arranged on hangers, protected by plastic covers, and accessories and smaller articles are exhibited in an eight-foot glass display case donated to the center by Mrs. Edward Grisham. Still other items are placed in boxes which line the shelves.

Shop Atmosphere "We wanted to create a shop atmosphere, so all our items are cleaned and pressed and properly packaged when the youngster leaves the store," Mrs. Schrader said.

"To be in style is a very positive factor to youth and only one who has been forced to wear hand-me-down clothing realizes the stigma that ill-fitting and poorly chosen garments can produce in a child," the council president said.

Mrs. Schrader recalled the remarks of a teenage girl from the Neighborhood Youth Corps who assisted at the "Nearly New Clothing Center" after school hours. "The girl commented this was the first time she had ever worn anything new. Always before she had dressed in hand-me-down clothing. Yet, at the time she was speaking, the teenager was wearing a dress obtained at the Center," Mrs. Schrader said.

Select Proper Clothing "I believe her comments reflect how carefully we try to select the proper clothing and preserve a 'fun-time' shopping atmosphere, primarily to help those receiving the gifts maintain their self respect and dignity," she added.

Through church bulletins and the Church Women United's newsletters, distributed at various churches in the Quad-Cities, several groups have become aware of the program and its basic philosophy and have contributed gifts of clothing for youngsters in need, the officer said.

She noted that shoes and undergarments, in most instances, must be purchased new and financial assistance always is a serious problem in keeping the center operational.

One clothing item for which there is a continual demand is trousers for grade-school-age boys. Gifts of cash would greatly help the women's group replace items most frequently requested, Mrs. Schrader pointed out.

"We have had wonderful cooperation from the Coordinated Youth Services staff and from counselors and other personnel at local schools," she commented.

She cited specifically the assistance given the center by Sandra Kopsky at Granite City High School, Mrs. June Mills, Central Junior High School, John Haug, Prather Junior High School and Mrs. Ruth McDonald, Venice school nurse.

Applications for clothing through the center are completed by the sponsor (counselor or social worker) and submitted to the center's clothing committee for approval.

Those serving on the Clothing Center Committee include Mrs. Virgie Daniel, Mrs. Lucille Webb, Mrs. Sandra Devaney, Mrs. Marge Miller and Mrs. Schrader.

Visits to the center are by appointment, usually after school or on Saturdays, Mrs. Schrader explained.

"We believe a young person who is properly dressed will be more acceptable to be encouraged to function in a good behavior. The young people will not feel rejected or excluded because of their appearance."

"Through the Nearly New Clothing Program, it is the desired hope that the self image of young people will be improved and this feeling about themselves will contribute to better social behavior and self esteem," the council president said.

WASHINGTON SCHOOL PTA VIEWS PROGRAM

A program entitled "Everything's Coming Up Talent" was given by the sixth graders at a meeting of the Washington School PTA Monday evening. They were directed by Miss Carole Humphrey, music teacher at the school, assisted by Tom Haeffner.

Refreshments were served in the cafeteria to about 200 members and guests.

WCTU Hears Review of State Paper

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union met at the Gospel Mission, 2014 East 20th St., opening with the pledge to the American, Christian and Temperance flags led by Mrs. Alice Bates, followed by the singing of "Back to God, Oh America" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

Devotions given by Mrs. Pearl Campbell were based on "Prayer," how to pray, and when and where to pray. The reports of the secretary and treasurer were read and Mrs. Bebel Davis, president, reviewed the March "White Ribbon," the state paper of the organization.

The new handbooks were distributed and Mrs. Davis, Mrs. Glenn Cundiff, and several other members reported on an executive meeting in Alton and announced the County Synod Institute to be held in Wood River April 23. The state clinic is to take place in Springfield March 30-31.

Mrs. William Fisher read a brief summary on her Department of Education and stressed the need of this department.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Davis and the assistant hostess, Mrs. Bates.

The April meeting will be with Mrs. Campbell, 2311 Edison Ave.

Brenda Ervin Chosen as Outstanding Student Leader at Madison High by Chamber of Commerce Youth Group

The Youth Committee of the Chamber of Commerce of the Tri-Cities has chosen Miss Brenda Ervin as the outstanding student leader of Madison High School.

Brenda, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Ervin, 1212 Logan St., Venice, is a junior at the school and is active in many school programs.

She is secretary of the MHS Student Council and acts as a home room representative. As a journalist, she has been appointed associate editor of the school paper, as a financier, she has been elected as treasurer of the Pep Club.

Her athletic abilities are not to be slighted, either, as she is an active member of the Girls' Athletic Association.

Miss Ervin is also active in her church, the New Salem Baptist Church in Venice. She presently holds the post of president of the Youth Choir and serves in other church programs and activities.

Her fellow students at Madison High School say she is one of the most liked persons there. "She has the unique ability to get along with others and to make people proud to be called her friend," a school-mate said.

Brenda's father is an alderman of the Venice City Council.

She is the second Quad-City high school student to receive the "outstanding student leader" award. Last month, Miss Debby Baker was chosen from Granite City High School.

In April, a student from Venice High School will be recorded the honor. Those selected are presented a plaque at a Chamber of Commerce board meeting.

Generation Gap Narrows At St. Teresa Academy

The generation gap may have been narrowed a bit last week as freshmen and parents sat down together in religion classes at St. Teresa Academy to discuss dating.

The panel, held during regular sessions in religion, provided an opportunity for parents and students to exchange opinions and hear others' views on dating questions.

Questions handled by parents included what age to begin, when to begin single dating, what curfew would be suitable for freshmen, mixed parties, drinking at parties, pros and cons of going steady.

The format was a question-and-answer program with students as discussion leaders. The parents often asked questions of girls as well as answering them.

Religion classes at the academy for freshmen include a program on sex education. The students are encouraged to raise questions and exchange opinions on dating and related topics.

Parents, students, and teachers alike agreed that the panels were an interesting learning experience. One parent felt that she herself had learned from hearing the other parents' viewpoints.

Moonspinners 4-H Club Plans Sewing Session

The Moonspinners 4-H Club held its monthly meeting last week at Nemo United Presbyterian Church under the direction of leaders Mrs. Eleanor Kozio and Mrs. Carol Davis. A new member, Lori Malotki, was introduced and registered.

Anita Turner and Susan Davis lead members in reciting the 4-H Pledge and the Pledge to the Flag. Tammy Duft, vice-president, took roll call, which the girls answered by including their birthdates. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary, Ann Uram. Teresa Butler gave the treasurer's report.

Sewing project leader, Mrs. Jo Uram, reported on the classes and advancements of the girls, and announced that the next sewing session will be April 15, at the church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Schmidt gave the report on the progress of her knitting classes. Plans were made for an Easter visit to the Columbian Nursing Home at 4 p.m. April 8.

Food demonstrations were given by the following members: Linda St. Ivany, "Brownies"; Dawn Portell, "Caramel Marshmallow Bars"; Jo Marie DeRuntz, "Crescent Rolls and Cinnamon Rolls"; and Elaine Bellue, "Turnovers".

Kathy Turk gave a talk on "Why Did They Decorate Our Flag", and Ann DeRuntz spoke on "Cleaning and Adjusting Sewing Machines".

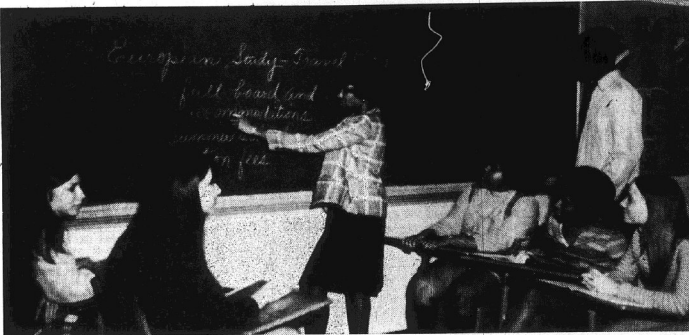

Entertainment for the evening was under the leadership of Anita Turner, who directed group games. Mary Ann and Susan Bury, Lauren Gubner and Renee Schmidt were hostesses for the meeting and served cookies and punch. The next regular meeting will be April 11.

Others attending were Cheryl Bellue, Mary Ann Bequette, Laura Carick, Joani Celio, Kathleen DeRuntz, Mary Beth Favier, Carolyn Goldsich, Rose Marie Horbelt, Betty Komadins, Laura Jean Mann, Paula Nibbur, Donna Portell, Laura Rosales, Marguerite Roth, Maria Schmidt, Denise St. Ivany, Mary Beth Vecchi and Teresa Polom.

Enrollment Cutoff Announced at EIU

Applications from undergraduate transfer students for the fall quarter at Eastern Illinois University are no longer being accepted, a university official announced today.

Dr. Samuel Taber, acting dean, student academic services, said increases in applications over last year at this time caused an earlier cut-off decision. Also announced was the cut-off of all fall quarter freshmen applications with the exception of recipients of certain scholarships and awards.

SIU Board Changes End 'Epoch of a Sort' -- Morris

President Emeritus Delye W. Morris of Southern Illinois University has sent letters to three bankers.

Recipients were Lindell W. Sturgis, president of the City National Bank of Metropolis; Melvin C. Lockard, president of the First National Bank of Mattoon, and F. Guy Hitt, who has been president and board chairman both of the Bank of Benton and Bank of Zeigler and is a former director of the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

Lockard recently was re-elected to the Federal Reserve Board of Chicago and is board chairman also of the Bank of Cadden. All were members of the SIU Board of Trustees whose terms expired in January and whose successors were appointed two weeks ago.

With completion of their appointments, Dr. Morris observed, an epoch of a sort has come to an end. "It is not likely," he noted, "that the new and continuing process we have to confront the fantastic problems of controlled growth and innovation that occurred during the service of these three men."

"Each in his own distinct way," the SIU president emeritus noted, his exhibited a strong dedication to the development of the University in all valid and useful ways, a strong interest in seeing it oriented to the needs not only of scholarship and teaching but also to the needs of citizens generally, a desire to be thoroughly informed concerning plans, programs, buildings, laboratories, financial and financial support and a willingness to take reasonable risks in the creation of new programs and new methods of instruction. "The risks," Dr. Morris added, "in general have been justified by the results—an extraordinary period of sound and well controlled but rapid expansion."

Covered Long Span
For Sturgis, senior board member and chairman at the time of his retirement, that service began in 1941 as a member of the former Teachers College Board and, except for a brief period, was continuous to the present. He saw enrollment increase more than 20 times from 1,721 in 1941 to 37,543 on two campuses in 1970, the conversion from a teachers college to University status in 1945, organization into three colleges and a graduate school in 1945, renaming as a University in 1948, and the achievement of having its own board in 1949. In all of these events, Dr. Morris noted, Sturgis' influence was evidenced within the Board and in the power centers of the state.

In 1949, also Sturgis witnessed the laying of the cornerstone for Pulliam Hall, first permanent building erected outside the historic "old campus" quadrangle. In the same year there was opened a small residence center at Belleville junior high school which ultimately became a major campus at Edwardsville. In 1959 another far-reaching innovation, the Vocational-Technical Institute, was approved by the Board. At the time this was a pioneering and much criticized venture—now being widely imitated, and established the concept of technical education beyond the high school level as a responsibility of the State.

Lockard, long secretary of the Board, was appointed in 1963 and immediately, with the other members, became involved in the complex problems of keeping commensurate the growth of the educational program and the development of the physical campus. There was the construction and financing of Woody Hall in 1953 and the Life Science Building in 1954. By 1955, the Morris letter points out, the faculty had been strengthened to the extent that drastic reorganization and the creation of new schools became necessary. Meanwhile, the Graduate School had been carefully developed and became fully accredited, and the research program rose to a high level in the major units. In 1956 the new Morris Library, imaginatively designed, gave great impetus to research activity.

New Vision in Planning
In 1955 Hitt came to the Board and "immediately brought his enthusiasm and vision to bear on further planning," some of which is now becoming reality in the School of Dentistry at SIU-SW, the School of Medicine at Springfield and the proposed School of Law at Carbondale.

To attempt to supply the needs of the Madison-St. Clair county area, centers had been established in Alton and East St. Louis in 1957, and soon afterwards a site was selected for the SIU-SW campus, development of which was made possible by the Universities Bond Issue of 1960.

The Morris letter to the retiring board members notes that for more than 30 years the board consistently backed an ever widening program of services to persons not formally enrolled in SIU but seeking to benefit from its resources and staff. An example was the annual Illinois Bankers School for junior officers, established with the help of Lockard.

Such services soon exceeded area boundaries and the University's influence was exerted throughout Illinois and the nation until, in 1961, an International Services Division was created.

Concluding the letter to Sturgis, Lockard and Hitt, Dr. Morris said that in the words of show business, "their act will be hard to follow." On a positive note, he added that the three and their colleagues have provided those who will govern the University in the future with both an example and an incentive to sustain the development of SIU as one of the nation's major universities.

Firemen Wait as Farmhouse Burns

A vacant farmhouse on Bend Road, south of Madison, was destroyed by fire which began about 9 p.m. Monday.

Firemen of the Horseshoe Bend Volunteer Fire Department refused to respond to the alarm because the owner, Rno Zerkovich, was not a member of the fire department and had not paid the $10 annual assessment required for fire protection, a fireman said.

A fire department spokesman said all firemen were called on duty but when it was determined that there was no danger to surrounding homes and structures, the fire engine did not leave the garage. The Long Lake Volunteer Fire Department also was placed on standby in case the fire spread.

No damage estimates were given.

Venice Mayor John E. Lee requested at a meeting of the city council Tuesday night that members of the Police Committee and Police Chief Ralph D. Brawley take steps to buy two new police cars.

The Mayor said he believes special attention should be given to "heavier cars" as the compact models presently in use have cost the city "far too much in repairs."

"We don't want to leave ourselves in the position of having no police cars that work. Although we are not in that situation now, it will take about three months to complete the purchase and get the new cars," Mayor Lee said.

The council agreed to purchase the lot and house at 1118 Logan St., from Mr. and Mrs. Joe Radman for $1,800 minus $98 in taxes owed and $109 for an East Side Levee and Sanitary District lien on the property. The purchase is to be made this week.

Approve Fees

Engineering fees in the amount of $2,037 for McKinley Bridge improvement planning were ordered paid to the firm of Hardesty & Hanover, a amount included $1,057 in engineering fees for bridge surfacing and railings and $880 for work done in planning a new traffic signal system for the St. Louis side of the bridge to warn of trains approaching.

Ben Honorable, Venice civil defense director, told the council that a fallout shelter in the basement of Phelps-Dodge Aluminum Products Corp., was not approved by the county civil defense organization, but he explained that he has obtained approval on enough shelters to adequately protect all the residents of Venice. He will begin placing shelter signs on the selected sites this week.

Honorable also said that he is organizing a first aid corps to deal with civil defense emergencies and that training for these volunteers should begin next month.

The council appropriated $25 to cover travel expenses for meetings Honorable has attended while organizing the Venice Civil Defense unit.

When a squad car arrived the youths fled into West Madison. Venice policemen were called to assist and saw a group of five youths near the northwest corner of the Phelps-Dodge Aluminum Products Corp. After two warning shots were fired, three youths, ages 9, 13 and 15, stopped, and were arrested and turned over to Madison police. The other two boys fled.

About 5:45 p.m. another 15-year-old boy came to the police station and surrendered.

Nameoki Town Board Acts To Combat Dog Problem

Three special dog catchers were hired Monday night by the Nameoki Township Board of Health to combat a growing stray dog problem.

The men, who will serve one month at a salary of $25 per week, are Randy Allen, Wade Randall and William Luchini.

The regular meeting of the board was held prior to the health board meeting.

Town Clerk Louis Whitsell, a candidate for supervisor, charged during the meeting that Harry Briggs, a candidate for re-election as supervisor, had used the township offices for political purposes.

Whitsell told the meeting that when persons called the office about the dog problem "they got a 45-minute political lecture."

Whitsell then read a section of the Illinois Statutes on "Limitation of Political Activities." Briggs denied Whitsell's charges, noting that "We have no political activity in the township office."

Whitsell moved to employ the three men to help solve the dog problem, but Briggs objected to the motion on grounds it was the function of the Board of Health to hire the men.

Whitsell's motion was then tabled and the Board of Health was called into special session to act on the dog problem.

AFRICAN MUSIC INSTRUMENTS demonstrated by members of an ethnomusicology class at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern. They are Tom Pacatte of Wood River, playing the "balangi"; Becky Gill of Collinsville, the "sanza"; and Robert Ware, a German student residing in Belleville, the "tabulay".

African Instruments Featured in Course

Students are becoming increasingly interested in folk instruments of other countries, according to Mabel Murphy, the arts librarian at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern's Lovejoy Library.

A collection of 16 authentic African instruments, acquired recently to meet the growing curriculum needs, is being used in Anthropology 404-Art and Technology, taught by Charlotte Frisbie, assistant professor of anthropology.

One of the instruments is a "Sanza" or "kondi", a box with metal tongues on top, the longest in the center. Sound holes are present in the three sides not touching the body. Thumbs are used to pluck the tongues.

A head of goat skin, the "tabulay", is another of the newly-acquired African instruments, used by the Temne chief to call his tribe together.

Also in the collection are a "vuvu", a log with slits along the top, beaten with a wooden stick; a "horou", a Foulah guitar with strings attached to the neck by small leather strips; and a "cow horn", made from deer horn or elephant trunk and blown from the side.

The instruments left Sierra Leone, West Africa, in September, and reached SIU-SW during the Christmas holidays. They were selected last summer by Margaret Sherwin, a cataloger at Lovejoy Library, while she was visiting her sister, stationed with the Peace Corps in Africa.

Federalizing of Aid Would Be More Helpful To Illinois Than Revenue Sharing -- Howlett

Complete federalizing of public assistance would have more than twice the impact in Illinois of President Nixon's revenue sharing proposal, Michael J. Howlett, state Auditor of Public Accounts, said in an address Monday night at a banquet of the Illinois Chapter, Municipal Finance Officers Association, during the group's annual spring seminar at Peoria.

He said federal takeover of the entire bill for public aid would "set free" more than a half-billion dollars of state revenues annually for other services such as education, mass transportation, mental health and needs of municipalities.

The president's revenue-sharing plan would allocate $220 million of federal tax revenues to Illinois in the first year of operation; of this, about half would be used by the state government, and the rest distributed to local governments.

Favors Full Takeover

"If the federal government is willing to use its revenues to help the states, the quickest and most equitable way would be to take full responsibility for public aid," said Howlett.

"Public assistance is a national problem. It should be shared nationally. If standards of assistance were made uniform across the country, it would no longer be necessary for poor families in the poorer states to migrate to Illinois for a decent subsistence."

"Surveys have shown that young people educated in Illinois have a higher standard of literacy than those who migrate here from other states. Much of our illiteracy problem is imported."

Illinois' public assistance appropriation for the current fiscal year is $366 million, of which $398 million is federal funds and $468 million state funds.

Howlett said this is not enough to pay the bill, and a $30 million deficiency appropriation is expected. The budget requested by Governor Ogilvie for the Department of Public Aid for next year is $1.12 billion.

The state auditor said he supports the concept of federal revenue sharing but objects to President Nixon's proposal to share most liberally with the states which make the strongest "tax effort" of their own.

"By that, he meant the states which took the biggest bite from the residents' personal income dollar with their state and local government taxes," said Howlett.

"If bonuses are to be given, I think they should be given to the state and local governments which try hardest for efficiency and economy rather than those which try harder to tax the people more."

MPs in Vietnam Approve Legion Flag; Now Stolen

Recent disappearance of the new U.S. flag from the roof of the American Legion Post 113 building may incur the wrath of the 61st Military Police Company, based at Long Binh, Vietnam, when the MP outfit discovers the flag has been stolen.

"Speculation that the flag's involuntary departure from its spotlight position at 24th Street and Madison Avenue could induce reverberations more than 4,000 miles away is indicated by the enthusiasm expressed for the new flag project in a letter received from Private First Class Carl Benson.

In the letter, Pfc. Benson congratulated his mother, Mrs. Nedwin (Joan) Tapp, Americanism chairman for the Legion Auxiliary Unit, for her part in presenting the new Legion flag to Tri-City Post 113.

He commented also how fellow Legion members had expressed similar sentiments and appreciated such patriotic acts by people at home. At the time the flag was presented to Mrs. Tapp, her son and his comrades in Vietnam were unaware the flag had been moved from the Legion roof.

Dated Feb. 25, Pfc. Benson's letter first commented about an item which appeared in the Press-Record describing the flag presentation. "That was a good article in the paper about you," the soldier wrote. "I am so very proud of you. I wish more people were like you and the girls in your organization. If there were, our country would be a much better place to live."

"Mom, I really appreciate you part helping our country. It might seem small and irrelevant to you and the girls working with you, but I want you to know the men of the 61st M. P. Company on Long Binh Post, South Vietnam, appreciate it," Pfc. Benson said.

"I showed the article to my platoon and they all really appreciated it. Most of us over here don't really understand this war, but we all love our country and we are glad there are people back home who feel the same way and appreciate the men who are over here fighting."

The local serviceman continued, "I know I am not actually out fighting the enemy yet in a way I am. I am serving my country to the best of my ability and apparently where my country needs me the most."

"I feel the Military Police Corps is where my country wants me the most, so I will serve it proudly and to the best of my ability."

Commenting about the latest action in Southeast Asia, the soldier stated — "I know this deal in Laos and Cambodia has got you worried, but there is no need to worry because we have no U. S. ground forces in either country."

No Ground Forces

"True we fly helicopter and jet fighter missions over these countries, but we have no ground forces there. The only U. S. involvement is air support missions. We supply air support for the South Vietnamese Army."

"Granted, we are losing pilots over there, but it is better than having ground forces there. There is very little fighting in Vietnam right now. Almost all our losses are coming from the pilots being shot down over Laos and Cambodia. Anyway, there is no fighting around here and I am very thankful for that."

Pfc. Benson concluded his letter with several personal comments to the family, including a reference to his upcoming birthday Tuesday, March 16 — "I am doing fine and really don't need anything. But, if you want to send something for my birthday I sure would appreciate a box of Ding Dong Cupcakes."

The local serviceman who will observe his 22nd birthday next week has served in Vietnam since the first part of December. Two months earlier, Pfc. Benson was married to the former Miss Brenda Mezo, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Mezo, 2408 Glen Place, Baseball Player.

He is a 1967 graduate of Granite City High School and attended Southern Illinois University — Southwest campus for three years prior to entering the Army in August 1968. Both in high school and college, Pfc. Benson was a highly-rated baseball player. A strong center fielder, he played in position with the Warrior and Cougar varsity ball clubs and earned a trophy in his rookie year at SIU-SW.

He completed basic and Advanced Individual Training at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and received military police training following his arrival in Vietnam.

At Christmastime, Pfc. Benson served as a member of the honor guard when Bob Hope appeared at Long Binh with his "Christmas Special" show for U. S. Troops. Mrs. Tapp said the large Stars and Stripes referred to by the serviceman in his letter was presented to the Legion by Auxiliary members just eight days before the

Zoning Board Approves Six Township Requests

The Madison County Zoning Board of Appeals has recommended approval of six requests and denial of one, with action to be taken March 17 by the Madison County Board of Supervisors.

Four requests, held over from last month, were by the City of Madison and the National Advertising Co. for a variation in sign height and area requirements at Chouteau Island.

Other favorable recommendations were on requests of Clifford B. McCaughy, agent for Gloria Ann Shidler, owner, and Thomas E. Johnson, purchaser, for a variation of setback lines and yard area requirements in an agricultural district in Chouteau Township.

Glenn R. Vatterott, owner, to rezone a tract on agricultural to M-3 heavy industrial district in Chouteau Township.

The denial was on the request of Clarence P. and Christina Williams to place a mobile home in an R-3 one-family residence district of Nameoli Township.

3,593 Cases Terminated In Court, 8,339 Pending

Births and Deaths Below Average Here

Births and deaths in the Quad-Cities last month were well below those in January, due partially to the short month of only 28 days. February figures were also below the total births and deaths recorded in February, 1970.

A total of 82 births was recorded in February, 26 less than in February 1970 and also 26 less than in January this year, when 108 births were recorded.

The number of deaths dropped to 38 last month, seven below the 45 deaths in January and only three less than the 39 deaths in February, 1970. No fetal deaths were recorded in February of 1970 or 1971. There was one fetal death in January this year.

Totals for the first two months of this year show births at the lowest level since 1968. There were 190 births here in the first two months of this year compared to 210 births at the end of February 1970. In 1968 only 188 births were recorded for the two months.

Deaths were the lowest since 1966 when 79 deaths occurred in the two-month period. A total of 79 deaths was reported in the first two months of this year. Last year at this time 84 deaths had occurred here.

Parked Truck Struck

A pickup truck driven by James R. Prater, Foley, Mo., parked at 21st Street and Washington Avenue, was struck in the rear Monday by a car driven by Ewing W. Goodin, 2253 Monroe St.

A total of 3,593 law cases were terminated in February in Madison County Circuit Court, it was reported by William V. Portell, clerk of the court.

New cases filed during the month totaled 2,748, while 8,339 were pending at the end of the month.

Portell noted that although the courts are trying considerably more cases than a year ago, more are being filed at all levels.

Cases terminated and those pending include:
Jury over $15,000, 43 and 1; jury over $15,000, 20 and 203; jury $1,000 to $15,000, 22 were granted probation.

Use of Switchboat Increases Lockages

Test results of the new switchboat system at Locks and Dam 26, Mississippi River at Alton, presented to navigation interests by the St. Louis District, Corps of Engineers, have shown use of a switchboat to expedite double lockages have increased the capacity of the locks from 41,500,000 tons per year to 47,000,000 tons.

During October 1970, the switchboat's test month, Locks 26 locked through more than five million tons, 401,800 tons more than any previous month. Double lockage time was reduced by about 24 minutes per tow. Delay times to commercial vessels were reduced about one and one-fourth hours per tow.

The practical capacity of Locks 26 had been exceeded by almost six and one-half million tons per year. Replacement locks and a new dam are scheduled to be constructed about two miles downstream in the next ten years. This leads to the basic solution of how to best lock through the anticipated increased traffic during the intervening years without structural changes to the existing facilities. The switchboat has been found to be an economical way to do it, engineers reported.

Towed Auto Hits Car

An auto being towed by a pickup truck driven by Charles Edmund Warmack, St. Louis, struck a car owned by Beatrice Roberts, 2029 Sherman Ave., while it was parked in front of her home at 1238 p.m. Monday. Behind the wheel in the disabled auto was Charles Gerald Warmack, 2035 Sherman Ave., who was charged with driving without a license.
